

Open Lecture

The UMBC TESOL Program in Collaboration with the Department of Modern Languages, Linguistics & Intercultural Communication and the English Language Institute present

Effective Teaching in Higher Education Communication, Delivery, and Assessment

Aynur Yürekli

March 9, 2020 ♦ 12:00-1:00 ♦ UMBC Campus
Fine Arts Building Room 459

Pedagogical competencies of instructors play a crucial role in improving the quality of the teaching and learning in higher education institutions. However, in many countries worldwide, pedagogical training is not a requirement for being an instructor at a university. This talk explores how pedagogical competencies of instructors affect student perceptions by focusing on three key dimensions of classroom pedagogy: delivery, communication, and measurement and assessment. Specific emphasis will be placed on "classroom communication" and how it relates to concepts beyond the classroom setting.

UMBC

40 Years of TESOL

RSVP Required by March 2nd

UMBC faculty staff, and students, please click the 'going' button at <https://my3.my.umbc.edu/groups/educ/events/79617>
Participants not affiliated with UMBC, please e-mail TESOL@umbc.edu

Aynur Yürekli is an associate professor of English language teaching (ELT) and a Certificate in English Language Teaching to Adults (CELTA) tutor who is involved in teacher training and teaching English for academic purposes (EAP) at İzmir University of Economics in Turkey. Her research areas include pedagogical and professional development in higher education, teacher training, and ELT and applied linguistics. She has lectured on these topics internationally in Cyprus, France, Hungary, Portugal, Russia, the United Arab Emirates, and the United States as well as nationally throughout Turkey. Currently, she is a visiting scholar at the UMBC Department of Education.

tesol.umbc.edu